Poetry.

Going Up and Coming Down.

The author of these beautiful lines was Mary Frances Tyler, a young girl of seventeen, small figure, with curling hair and bright grey eyes, living in Michigan. She had early manifested a poetic taste, and had written considerably for local papers. Her first published poem was penned when she was but ten years old; and several poems written between her thirteenth and fifteenth years attracted considerable attention, and drew forth complimentary letters from distinguished people.—Rural Home.

This is a simple song, 'tis true—
My songs are never over nice,—
And yet I'll try and scatter through
A little pinch of good advice.
Then listen, pompous friend and learn
To never boast of much reno wn,
For fortune's wheel is on the turn,
And some go up and some come down.

I know a vast amount of stocks
A vast amount of pride insures;
But fate has picked so many locks
I wouldn't like to warrant yours.
Remember then and never spurn
The one whose hand is hard and brown
For he is likely to go up,
And you are likely to come down.

Another thing you will agree,
(The truth may be as well confessed,)
That "Codfish Aristocracy"
Is but a scaly thing at best.
And Madame in her robe of lace,
And Bridget in her faded gown,
Both represent a goodly race,
From father Adam handed down.

Life is uncertain—full of change;
Little we have that will endure;
And 'twere a doctrine new and strange
That places high are most secure:
And if the fickle goddess smile,
Yielding the scepter and the crown,
'Tis only for a little while,
Then B. goes up and A. comes down.

This world, for all of us, my friend
Hath something more than pounds and pence;
Then let me humbly recommend,
A little use of common sense.
Thus lay all pride and place aside,
And have a care on whom you frown.
For fear you'll see him going up,
When you are only coming down.

Selected Story.

In Twenty Years.

"And so you really think there is nothing serious in Margaret's naughtiness, my dear sir," said a fashionably dressed lady of five and forty summers to a gentleman fifteen years her junior, who stood behind the open library window, regarding her with an amused smile.

"Nothing at all serious, my dear Mrs. Gray," said the gentleman quietly.

"And what do you think I had better do with her?"

"Send her to me if you like," was the negligent answer.

The lady's anxious face cleared and brightened at once.

"Would you really take her?"

"If it will give you pleasure I will be happy to do so."

"Oh, it will be such a weight off my mind, Mr. Strong. I cannot tell you what I suffered from the girls peculiar ways since I came into this house to live. Fond as I was of Judge Gray, I doubt if I ever could have made up my mind to take him had I known as much of his only child as I know now. And, since her father's death, she has run wild—positively wild, Mr. Strong. I have not the slightest control over her. In fact, she sets every one at defiance, and what——

"Yes, my dear madam, said Mr. Strong, bowing politely, as if he thought she had completed her sentence. "I can easily understand it all. But send her to me and we will see what can be done. I have had some wild natures in my time. Good afternoon, madam,"

With these words a human destiny was decided.

The next day I saw Margaret, the only daughter and heiress of the late Judge Gray, sitting quietly at a desk in the village academy among a group of girls, who eyed her over their school books as steathily and curiously as if she had been a newly imported kangaroo.

First, because with her clear, bright brunette complexion, her large, dark eyes and her curling brown hair, she was by far the handsomest girl in the whole school.

Secondly, because she was an heiress.

Thirdly and lastly, because they had heard many a tale of her haughty and capricious temper, and were in daily and hourly expectation of a strife for the mastery between her and their grave and handsome teacher, whose authority no one within those walls would ever dream of disputing, unless, indeed, it would be her.

But much to the wonder, and very possibly to the disappointment of the school girls, no such outbreak had occurred. Margaret, perched in the library gallery at home, among her well-beloved books, had heard her stepmother's accusation, and the teacher's laughing reply. Neither of the speakers had been aware of her presence, and she did not make it manifest by word, or look, or sign. But when they were gone, she clinched her little white hand, vowed passionately to herself that she would surprise them both, and make stepmother appear to others the harsh, censorous and unjust woman she herself, in her own secret heart, had always been willing to believe her.

Accordingly, when informed of the existing arrangement, she uttered no word of opposition, much to the astonishment of Mrs. Gray, who could scarcely believe her own eyes when she saw Margaret obediently leave the house each morning with her satchel of school books swinging from her arm. Mr. Strong was also puzzled. His deep blue eyes often met those brown ones with a look of wondering inquiry that made Margaret long to laugh. But the one asked no questions; the other answered none. And so the days went on, and Margaret passed her first examination triumphantly, and was proclaimed the best and most promising scholar in the school.

She ought, therefore, to have been happy. But it was with a very sad face that she went up into the familiar hall, just at dusk, on the evening of the great examination day, to collect her books and take one last secret look at a place which she would never again set tenanted as it had been tenanted of late—the master's chair.

There it stood upon the raised platform, empty and desolate. The stately figure that filled it like a throne was absent; and yet, to her dreaming eye, present and plainly as ever she saw the high, white brow, and the deep blue eyes, and the firm chiseled lips that closed so firmly in spite of their beauty. She heard the deep, sweet tones of that beloved voice—beloved? She started at the thought.

"Oh! my dear master!" she said aloud and burying her head in her hands, she sank down upon the empty chair and wept.

A step crossed the hall hastily, an arm was thrown around her waist; that voice, all hurried and agitated, was speaking in her very ear.

"My pupil! Oh, if I were younger or you older; if I were rich or you poorer, I would dare say 'my Margaret,' and do my best to turn this girlish liking into a woman's love! But I am a poor man, darling, and I am fifteen years older than you. Remember me, when you remember me in after days, and say to yourself that these were the barriers that rose between us. My darling, nothing else should keep me from you if I were your equal in these two things. I dare not kiss your lips. You will keep them for the man you love, and marry one day when I am far away. But your hand——"

He raised it to his lips, and a hot tear fell with the long lingering kiss, and seemed to burn in the soft, white flesh.

Before she could speak or stop him, he hurried from the room. The pleasant "summer term" was over, and the handsome, stately "master" was gone to return no more.

And twenty years passed by.

To Margaret they seemed to bring little of trial or change.

She still dwelt in her old home, though her fashionable mother had long since left it to share the mansion of a merchant prince upon Fifth avenue.

Margaret felt no desire to share the splendor of which the late widow was so inordinately proud. The dear old homestead was grand and good enough for her, and all the dearer, if the truth must be told, since that jarring presence was removed. So she dwelt there quietly with a maiden aunt for chaperon and companion; and all her schoolmates were married, and she alone remained as ever, Margaret Gray.

It was not, however, for lack of offers that she lived a single, solitary life. Many a lover had come to woo; for brown curls, and soft, dark eyes, and rosy cheeks and Grecian features, and perfect lips do not often go begging for a purchaser when backed by such a fortune as Margaret possessed. She had suitors by the score, until it came publicly to be understood that she would rather see the suitors at a distance, or wooing some one else. After that no one ventured to try his luck with Judge Gray's heiress, and the rejected lovers consoled themselves as speedily as possible by marrying the prettiest of her friends.

Margaret went cheerfully to each wedding, wished the bridgroom joy, and gave to the brides some beautiful and valuable gifts. Evidently she was then "wearing the willow" for no one. What could the meaning of celibacy so determined be?

And the days and years went on. And a birthday came at last, which showed how the school girl of fifteen was now the woman of thirty-five.

On that day, Margaret, arranging her abundant tresses before the glass, saw the first gray hair.

She stopped to look at it with a melancholy smile.

"Ah, he would not say I was too young now," she exclaimed.

And just then a tap came at the door, and she servant entered and brought her a card.

"The gentleman is below, Miss Margaret, and would like to speak with you if convenient," said the girl.

Margaret looked at the card.

"ELLISON STRONG."

The room reeled round and round, and she turned so pale that the girl was then frightened.

"Sure, Miss Margaret, it is ill that ye are, and I'll go down and send the gentleman away."

"No, no!" said Margaret, recovering her composure with an effort. "Help me to finish dressing, Kate; I must see him."

Kate, with a woman's quickness, guessed something of the truth, and did her best to make her mistress look as pretty as possible.

With the old color in her cheek, and the old happy light in her soft, brown eyes, Margaret stole down the stairs. But at the parlor door a sudden thought startled and checked her.

"I am thirty-five years old to-day, and he is now a man of fifty. He has been away for twenty years. How can I hope or fancy that he has remembered me all this time as I have thought of him?"

A little sobered by this misgiving, she opened the door.

She looked for a man almost a stranger; a man bent and bowed with the care of twenty years; a man whose brow was furrowed, and whose statuesque beauty gone as if it had never been.

And she saw before her Ellison Strong as she had seen him the very day of her parting, twenty years before. Stately and erect as ever, with a brilliant color on his cheek, and his blue eyes flashing with all the fire of early youth, and not a trace of sorrow or care to mar the beauty which she remembered so well. He sprang to meet her, and took her by the hand, and looked down into her eyes with a searching, almost imperious glance.

"Margaret," said a deep, sweet voice, whose music was unchanged," I have stayed away from you a whole life time; and, at last, the craving to see or hear of you grew too strong to be denied; I came here expecting to find you a happy wife, with your children at your knee, and here you, solitary and alone, though young and beautiful as ever. How is that?"

She could not answer with those deep blue eyes searching her drooping face so intently. But a deep crimson blush rose slowly to her cheek and spoke far more eloquently than ever words could do.

"I left you twenty years ago, my darling, because I was a poor man and fifteen years your senior. I am rich now, but what about the years, Margaret? They have made me no younger. I am fifty years old to-day.

"But I am thirty-five," she said in a low voice. "I see no gray hairs in your brown curls, but they begin to come in mine. Fifty years old to-day? You look not an hour older than when we parted in the hall."

He bent his face down to hers.

"Margaret, you liked me then—can you love me now—will you be my wife."

For an answer she lifted her lips to his.

"Twenty years ago you would not kiss me; you bade me keep that first kiss for the man I was to love and marry. I have kept it for you twenty years. Will you take it now?"

He held her closely to his heart in silence.

Thirty-five and fifty years of age! Does it seem absurd to you, young lady of sixteen? Ah me! I sometimes wonder if people really know how to love before gray hairs begin to come to teach them.

A Plea for the "Young Folks."

BY JOLLY JACK.

It is characteristic of young folks to be jolly. There seems to be a disposition on the part of old folks to restrain them in their pursuits of pleasure. They forget that they were once young. Because they have had their time, they do not wish young folks to have theirs. The Bible says there is a time for all things, Then there must be a time to be jolly; and if there is a time to be jolly, it must be while we are in our youth. This evidently being the time, why should the old folks kick up such a muss, when the young folks are simply having a good time? Why, we cannot have a social gathering and spend a short time pleasently but what the old folks are "kicking up a fuss" about it. They say we never will have any sense; that we should do away with all of our nonsense, and be sensible men and women. Now, if they had never been guilty of such a course of procedure, they might, with some degree of propriety, remonstrate with us to abandon the pursuit of pleaure. There is an old saying which runs thus: "Young folks think old folks are fools; but old folks know that young folks are." In my opinion, this should be reversed. Young folks are not such big fools after all. They frequently display more sense than old folks do.

If old folks could live their time over again, they would, doubtless, wish to have a pleasant time, and if they were deprived of this pleasure, how they would puff, grumble and pout! Young folks would not prevent them, if they could, from having a good time; but how ready they are to prevent the young folks! Here they fail to remember the golden rule: "Do as you would be done by." They say young folks never learn any sense until they get to be old folks; and the young folks think if they do not say, that the old folks do not have any after they are old.

When will they cease to censure one another? May the time speedily come when old folks will cease to meddle with the business of young folks and attend to their own affairs!

The Storm of the 2nd inst.

BY ONE EXPOSED TO IT.

Saturday the 2nd of this month (Mar.) witnessed one of the severest Storms that has occured along our coast for a great many years.

On Friday the 1st inst., I started in company with the Dept. Coll. of Customs for this district to visit the wreck of the Schr. "Willie" of Baltimore from Porto Rico with Sugar. We embarked on board the Schr. "Siam" Capt. Ackerly (by the way one of the most gentlemanly and accomodating "old tars" it has ever been my good fortune to meet with) about one o'clock A. M. taking the Deputy Collectors boat in tow, in which was placed the sails and oars belonging to it. We sailed smoothly along, passing "Wade's Point light," which is just at the month of the Pasquotank river, about daybreak, and we found ourselves steering our course across the almost waveless waters of the grand old "Albemarle." All was peace and beauty above and around us; On the left was the "North river," at or near the mouth of which is situated "North river light." On the right, the "Sound," as far as eye could reach stretches its shallow and glassy waters; while ahead, away in the dim, dim distance could be seen the historical Island of "Roanoke", raising to view its grand old hills, shining and glistening in the bright sunlight. At last, having passed through "Croatan Sound" we neared the "Roanoke Marshes light," so bidding adieu to the kind hearted Captain of the "Siam" we brought our boat along side and rowed towards the "light house." By this time, 12 M., the wind and waves had began to increase; we were welcomed on board by the good Capt. Jno. Pugh who seemed to take great delight in entertaining us and showing us around: and let me here state, that the lantern in this light house is kept in perfect order, as is also the whole house generally. The wind now began to blow in earnest and still continued to increase in violence until about 12 o'clock P. M. when it blew a perfect hurricane; at daylight nothing could be heard but the wild blast of the trumpet and the mad dashing of the billows as they were remorselessly hurled against the groaning sides of the poor old light house. Vast volumes of water as far as the eye could reach would be taken up by the fierce storm, and carried along for hundreds of yards like chaff, presenting the appearance of myriads of sails being driven through the air. One of the famous "Roanoke Canoes" was fastened by a strong hawser to the side of our larger boat, but she soon filled and sunk, and such was the force of the wind and current that she parted her hawser and with almost the swiftness of thought went down the Sound.

Suddenly there came a perfect calm, not a breath of air was stirred, but it was in reality the "calm before the storm," the wind, with lightning like speed, changed to the north west and came down upon us with redoubled force, the light-house reeled and rocked and quivered to its very foundation; for some purpose the Keeper undertook to pass around on the verandah, but such was the force of the wind that he was driven and back with difficulty kept his footing, having to grasp the railing to prevent being carried off.

Our staunch little boat that had so bravely ridden the storm in the forenoon now filled and sunk, slowly and it seemed sadly, to the bottom, sending adrift its sail, oars, and rudder which went speedily from view. The iron buoy, fastened by heavy chain cables, rnd had stood firm in its place so long, broke from its moorings and passed us almost with the quickness of lightning. Now did we feel that we were lost, and so resigned ourselves calmly to our fate; but late at night the wind ceased to howl and the waves to beat, and morning broke beautiful and calm, the storm had passed and we were safe.

This morning (Sunday) we with difficulty got up our boat and went over to "Oregon Inlet," where was situated the wreck, and again

"I stood on oceans utmost verge, and looked
Forth on the waste of waters,
Beautiful,
Yet awfully sublime, majestic sea!
While gazing on thy restless, billows, waves,
And listening to thy rough, tumultuous voice,
I feel emotions never felt till now;—
A feverish restlessness; a vague desire;
A chafing, lashing of the spirit; an
Exaltation of the soul, which seeks
To raise itself with thy stupendous waves,
And be a part and parcel of thy self."

Can Farming Pay such a Tax?

We are not thinking, now, of the Internal Revenue tax—which so many manage to evade—nor of our "State, County, Town and Road" taxes' which we can not avoid. These are comparatively moderate, and somehow or other they do get paid, and the world still moves on.

There is, however, another tax, though it is not called by that name, from which few of us can hope to escape, and which is entitled to the gravest consideration.

It is cutting into our substance like a two-edged sword—on one side idleness, on the other extravagance. Worst of all, the sword is wielded by our own flesh and blood, by those who love us, and whom we love—by our own daughters.

The reader will please notice that we make no assertions in the heading of this article; we only ask a question. We are not, ourselves, prepared to give a definite answer; but we think there is at least grave cause for anxiety in the habits and tastes of farmers daughters. On our drive to town, this afternoon, we met three young women, daughters of three ordinary farmers—men who have the usual struggle to make both ends meet, and who practice the usual economics in their households and on their farms. These damsels were so dressed that at a little distance they looked like the daughters of the rich people who board in our neighborhood, in the summer. As they came nearer, it was plain to see that they had economized in matersal as much as they had squandered in form and color, and this marked a wide difference between their brighter exemplars. Yes, save as they might, there was not one of them who had not on her person—counting everything from "botton-gaiters," to what Mr. Punch calls "Chig-non-sense," and hat-feathers—the value of a first-class mowing machine, with reaper attachment. If this were the end, it would not be so bad; but it is only the bad beginning. It is not the capital invested in finery that tells on our fortunes, but the awful interest in the shape of renewals. A first-class two-dollar "back-hair" we might stand, and done with it, but fashion change and back-hair wears out, and the next style is yet, and costs three dollar. And so it goes from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet; there is the same eternal grind that wears away clothing and finery alike. The more it costs the more must we spend in repars; and your modern country miss, with her Harper's Bazar and Peterson's Magazine for the law and gospel of her attire, is very apt to be a sort of well-dressed mortgage-deed upon her father's farm; and to become a sort of ornamental millstone about the neck of the man who marries her.

Aside from all this we would call attention to the occupation of these girls. Too often we shall look in vain for the steady, cheerful industry of their mothers' times. If they work, they are half ashamed to be seen at it, and they rarely accomplish, from one end of the year to the other, a tenth part of what they are easily capable of.

In the "good old time," when farmers were none too prosperous, when the land was richer than it now is, and when the cost of living was far less, our grandmothers and their sisters were cheaply clad, they wore their own hair, the renewal of their gear cost wonder

POPULAR EDUCATION.

In the contest between Knowledge and ignorance there is no middle ground. The struggle is not so much for victory as principle, and "he who is not with us is against us." The struggle between the two has been recorded on every page of the world's history, "One generation passeth away and another cometh," but it comes immersed in the darkness of ignorance, to dispel which, requires a life time of light. The contest is a warfare of ages in which every age must take its part.

And perhaps it is a necessary warfare. In nature there are attractive and repulsive, congenial and uncongenial elements engaged in a continual dispute. The carbon in the food we eat and the oxygen in the air we breathe, produce, by antagonism, the life of the animal. There must be agitation. Waves, tides and currents, purify the waters of the ocean. And it would seem that the contest in the intellectual is not less necessary than in the physical world.

CORNELIA said of the Gracchi, "these are my jewels." Such jewels adorn the hearthstones of almost every family. Several hundred thousand such are scattered all over this grand Old North State, and are eminently worthy of being polished and improved. Many a CAIUS and TIBERIUS are concealed in every county of our State, as the blushing flower in the desert, or the hidden statue in the block, and require but the combined energies of the friends of Education and the fostering protection of the State to be brought conspicuously to notice.

LYCURGUS maintained that the children belong to the State, and that their education ought to be directed by it, assigning as a reason, that when left to the soft and blind indulgence of a mistaken tenderness, both mind and body too often become enervated. Coming down to us through the mirage of so many centuries, the maxims of the old Philosophers are often viewed as delusive and unreliable, and perhaps this sentiment should not be entertained in its length and breadth. But it is certain that whatever may be our views on this point, Education with us is not viewed as merely a moral duty, but like the Spartan Lawgiver, we have made it a constitutional injunction, believing that light and knowledge can be intensified by the focal power of State authority. The farmers of our Constitution were practically the patrons of education and they felt it incumbent on them to encourage the dissemination of intelligence among the people. They engrafted a clause requiring the Legislature to provide a system of instruction so that the poorer classes might be educated.

We will resume the subject in our next

DEGENERATED.

It is not an uncommon thing for our latter day Democrats to make allusions to THOMAS JEFFERSON and boast of him as the father of Democracy. He is good authority to quote from, and we often take occasion to do so. But they seem to forget that he was the author of the Declaration of Independence, that immortal charter of liberty for all, and that his spirit was invoked and many of his principles approved in the very first platform submitted to the country by the Republican party. And yet such is the fact. As for Democracy, it has sadly degenerated—has departed from first principles. Its leaders might as well bay the moon, hoping to induce an eclipse, as to hope to induce the patriotic masses of the country to follow them in their devious paths.

The Republican party still has a work to do. The time for its dissolution has not yet come. Its past history is a glorious one. It has been piloted by Omnipotence itself. The banner it bore has been divinely sheltered amid the storm and confusion of war, against the treachery of pretended friends and against the luke-warm in its cause. Its grand mission is not yet completed. Neither the country nor mankind can yet dispense with its services.

MORE READING NEEDED.

There is no question about the fact that as a nation of readers the United States takes a first rank. Newspapers of all sizes and forms; of all classes, and of every degree of quality, from bad to best, are published and read in every portion of the country. Periodicals devoted to Literature, Science, Art and Fashion, of high tone, and edited with great ability, are published in considerable numbers, and are well supported. Books in inconceivable numbers, and upon every subject which the mind can suggest, are issued from the press, almost like rain drops from the clouds. And yet the people do not read enough.

With all this vast amount of reading matter issued daily and weekly and monthly from the press, it's safe to say that at least one half our population—and in the South we may say two thirds—never read even a paper. As startling and incredible as this announcement may seem, it is nevertheless true. And nowhere is this deficiency so great as among the farmers, and those who labor. The loss sustained is incalculable. It is not simply a loss to the individual but every non-ported, unintelligent farmer and laborer exerts an influence in the wrong direction upon all around them.

To illustrate: New discoveries are being made daily in some of the varied departments of agriculture. Science is offering its aid; mechanical ingenuity is devoted to it and the experiments and results are being published through the papers that farmer and laborer may reap the benefit of all these agencies at a trifling cost. Well, consider the influence of one good farmer in a neighborhood—one who employs these agencies, who posts himself and consequently keeps wide awake to every advantage which may be taken of soil, of tools, of machinery, and of methods of cultivation. However prejudiced his neighbors may be against the sciences from which his information is obtained, they do not hesitate to become his imitators when they see him deriving a profit.

Then think—what would be the effect if every naturally intelligent farmer in the community were as well posted as the one? Who is there that would be able to comprehend the progress which agriculture here in the South would be capable of making under such circumstances?

A word more, and we are done. In view of these possibilities for good and for material progress, ought not every man, and woman too, who has the welfare of the country at heart, exert his or her influence in extending the circulation of good newspapers? We modestly suggest the NORTH CAROLINIAN as one of them.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

The old Granite State fired the first gun of the campaign on the 12th inst., and amid the smoke of the battle and the re-echoing of the thunder among her White Mountains her loyal masses are enabled to shout Victory! She stands to day where she rightfully belongs—at the head of the column of Republican States. It was the first skirmish opening the grand engagement which will end in a magnificent Republican victory in next November. Hon. E. K. STRAW is elected Governor by a handsome majority, and the Legislature is largely Republican. Well done gallant boys of New Hampshire!

It use to be said that when JOHN C. CALHOUN took snuff all South Carolina began to sneeze. There now seems to be the same kind of sympathy between CARL SCHURZ and all who hate GRANT. Every time he opens his mouth they begin to sing and shout and rush to the telegraph office and report that he has made another "great," "eloquent," "brilliant," "learned" and "powerful speech," and the entire Democratic press take up the "wonderful tale" and ring the changes upon it. And how proud the Missouri Senator seems to be of the "greatness" toadies and sycophants have thrust upon him!

"The Democratic party is patriotic enough to ignore partisan considerations."—Democratic paper.

This "is richness." It has been observed in all ages that after a fellow has sat on a cold door step from twelve to fifteen years, he is willing to ignore partisan considerations, and everything else, to get inside. He won't insist on coming to the table—will only ask to warm his feet!!!

The Radicals have swept New Hampshire, cleaned out the Democracy, horse-foot and dragoons. It is gall and bitterness to us to write these words, but we are impelled to "tell the truth, Tony, and shame the devil."—Newark, (N. J.) Journal.

That's right. An honest confession is good for the soul. It isn't the first dose of "gall and bitterness" you'll be obliged to swallow this year.

A New Hampshire "Straw" is apt to show the course of the political breeze.—Exchange.

Yes, the old adage of "straws showing which way the wind blows" has been verified. The triumphant election of E. K. STRAW for Governor in the closely contested fight for New Hampshire is significant as showing the current of popular feeling.

It is a demonstrated fact that the Republican Party has given greater stimulus and wider expansion to agriculture, commerce, and mechanics, during the last ten years, than these great interests had received for fifty years preceeding.

The "Labor Party," which nominated Judge DAVIS for President, assumed to represent labor. It never knew them, and never will. American labor and the American people are one, and they have nothing in common with these pretenders.

Another term of Grant's rule would be disastrous.—Democratic Exchange.

Oh, certainly. Our cotemporary has been out in the cold so long! If he don't get in he'll freeze to death. Of course, nothing could be more "disastrous." But he'll have to stand it.

A PREDICTION.

Real estate here at the South is still cheap. The sad events of the last decade have brought this about. But a new era is dawning, the skies are brighter, and the sunshine of prosperity is looming up. Those who buy now will have the greater chance for success and the fortunes that will surely come.

Hitherto the North has been the active, the commercial and wealthy part of the Union. The South, while she has been the producer of materials highly necessary to the commerce of the world, has seemed satisfied with merely producing—furnishing the raw material, leaving it to the North and foreign nations to have the profitable employment of converting these materials into fabrics adapted to the use of mankind.

The time is coming—is almost here when this will be changed. The South will not only be a producer, but a manufacturer also. Then she will become the most prosperous and wealthy part of our great Republic. Factories will spring up, her territory will be spanned with railroads, her towns will grow and her real estate rapidly advance in value. All this will surely come. Ten years hence remember that we made the prediction.

THE DEATH OF MAZZINI.

JOSEPH MAZZINI, the Italian agitator and revolutionist is dead. His death must be a great relief to the crowned heads of Europe who were kept in continual terror by his unceasing machinations to convert their Kingdoms into Republics. He was a man of extraordinary ability, and his vigilance and activity were unremitting. Some of his work remains in the revolutionary organizations he created, and circumstances may call forth a worthy successor to fill the place he has left vacant and stirup once more into revolutionary action the elements of republicanism. But it is not every year or every age that produces a MAZZINI, and there may be a long period of rest before another such human comet blazes forth to disturb the equilibrium of royalty.

According to the Democratic lexicon—see report of Committee on Penitentiary—the luxuries of the convicts are rotten herring, maggoty bacon, musty meal, rats, cats and the carcasses of diseased hogs! And all this in the nineteenth century!!

A bill has passed the Pennsylvania Legislature and has been signed by the Governor, prohibiting the sale or giving away of liquor on election day. This will come down hard on the Keystone Democracy as whisky was one of its effective rallying agents on the day of election.

The Prussian Government has taken pains to let France know that she must let Italy alone. If the French attempt to help the Pope and to hurt the King, Germany will step in, and the last state of France will be worse than the present, and that is about as bad as it can be.

The Philadelphia Market Journal comes to us enlarged, improved and in an entirely new Spring dress. It is published weekly at $2 a year. Every merchant and business man that desires to keep thoroughly posted should subscribe for it.

Great preparations are in progress for the celebration in Philadelphia of the 100th anniversary of American Independence. It will be a national affair, and deserves to be made worthy of the country and the age.

The Republican Party is the acknowledged champion of "equal and exact justice to all men," including all races and colors. Ever since its formation one of its great mottoes has been, "free speech, free press, free soil and free labor." It has shown itself to be the special friend of labor of all kinds.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The fashion plates and other illustrations are very numerous and very fine, and the literary contributions are more than ordinarily interesting. The receipts are valuable to housekeepers. Of course, the votaries of fashion can find all the information they want about matters pertaining to the toilet. It used to be that a thing was not well done unless done "according to Gunter," but now-a-days a lady is not considered well-dressed unless she is dressed according to GODEY.

Resolved 4th, That for Leiut. Governer we recommend Hon. John W. Albertson of Perquimmans County, a true and tried Republican, whose ability and experience are a guarantee that the office will be in good hands.

Resolved 5th, That we recommend for the office of Att'y General the Hon. W. A. Moore now Judge of the 2nd Judicial District, a lawyer whose great ability is conceded by all and whose dignity and impartially as a Judge has commended universal applause.

The above resolutions were accepted by the meeting and unanimously adopted.

The Hon. John L. Chamberlain being called upon for an address, responded in a most happy and felicitous manner, to the utter chagrin and disconfiture of some of the so called Democratic Party. Col. Luke endeavered first to interrupt, them to reply, wound up by saying, he did not propos to make a speech, but would simply state his principles were those of Gov. Graham, Gov. Vance, and Gov. Bragg. The Col's principles, like his destinguished cotemporaries are about to appear upon another arena and under very trying and pecular circumstances.

Poor Col! Hang on to the last straw that rises to the surface, as the swelling tide of Pure Republicanism sweeps over the country. Soon your cries will be heard and a life preserver will be furnished.

At a meeting of the Republicans of Perquimans county, held at the Court House in Hertford on Saturday the 16th inst.

The Chairman explained the object of the meeting, to appoint Delegates to the State Convention to be held at Raleigh on the 17th day of April next.

On motion, a Committee of five was appointed to draft Resolutions, expressive of the sense of the meeting as follows:

Willis Bagley, Esq., Chairman, Stephen Norcom, G. W. Connor, A. Newby and Rufus White.

The Committee through their Chairman, reported the following Resolutions, which on motion, were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, 1st, That we approve the administration of President Grant, believing that under him, the National Government has been managed JUSTLY, by the rigid enforcement of Congressional Legislation in behalf of equal rights, and ECONOMICALLY, by establishing the National credit on a firm basis, and by reducing at the same time the taxes and the National Debt.

2nd, That we endorse the Administration of our State affairs by Governor Caldwell. His ability, straight-forward honesty, and firmness in the discharge of duty at a time of great peril to the State are worthy of all praise; and we respectfully recommend him to the Republican State Convention as our Standard bearer in the coming Campaign, and we instruct our delegates to support him for the Gubernatorial Nomination.

3rd, That the thanks of the Republicans of North Carolina, are due and freely tendered to the Hon. John Pool, our United States Senator, for the able determined manner in which he has discharged the laborious duties of his office; and more especially, in bringing to justice the members of the Ku Klux Klans, thereby restoring peace to the State, and putting an end to organized midnight assassins, and brutal outrages on life and liberty on account of opinion.

4th, That upon the intelligence of the citizen, depends the future safety and happiness of our country; and it is the duty of our Legislators to exhaust all lawful means for the spread of Education among the masses of our people.

5th, That we congratulate the State and Nation upon the full restoration of the Union, and the establishment of peace at home and abroad, through the action of the Republican party, and that by its continuence in power, needed reforms will be perfected, old abuses corrected, and our material prosperity and general happiness promoted.

On motion the Chairman and Secretary were added to the list.

On motion the proceedings were ordered to be published in the Elizabeth City NORTH CAROLINIAN and Raleigh Era.

On motion adjourned.

Our Washington Letter. No. 14.

Washington, D. C, March 14th, 1872.

POSTUMITE DEMOCRACY.

The Democrats here are professing to rejoice over the grand result in New Hampshire. From the New York World down to losers of small bets on the White Mountain State election, all are consoling themselves on the advantages will give them. All are trying to make themselves believe that no wing of the Democracy will henceforth advocate what they call "dead issues." The unexpected majority just achieved for Grant is expected to unite the South in favor of running a liberal Republican. They do not take into account that their rebel allies are still believers in the lost cause, and that they never will be induced to "possumize" or vote for a Republican of any stripe or character. These reliable friends of Democracy will not be reliable for anything that Democracy may pretend to be which is adverse to their dead issue. They are indced earnest in their opposition to all the platforms of popularity of their own for the Southern States which will expose the pretences of the Assistant Democratic Convention proposed to be held in Cincinnati. Does any man of experience suppose that the vote of the South can be induced to come out for a republican candidate? If so, upon what principle of ratiocenation does he arrive at such a conclusion? While they run the risk of being hung for murder, to prevent the operation of equal laws for the negro, by joining bands of Ku Klux, and still adhere to their pro-slavery views what possible chance is there for the union of this element with that of the Republican; and how can it be that any man in his senses can expect to get the Southern vote for a republican candidate? But the party which is about to expire in agony need consolation, and it would be cruelty to push them the conclusions of inevitable logic. There is no use any longer for such an obsolete party, and it is to be desired that it may give up the ghost in this enviable spirit of hopefulness.

A GERMAN-AMERICAN VIEW OF CARL SCHURZ.

A prominent German citizen, visiting here from the Western States says that the course of Senator Schurz is deprecated by the most enlightened and progressive Germans in the West. They were delighted when he became a United States Senator, under such favorable auspices. Being an influential member of the dominant party, it was supposed that he would mature new systems of laws upon the tariff, finance, education, protection to the immigrant, nturalization, &c., and press them upon the consideration of his party. It is now found that Carl Schurz's talents, though first-class in power, are only, of the second order. He seems to be devoid of political ideas and confines himself to fault finding and scolding. In this manner he has lost the confidence of the dominant party, and in view of the New Hampshire election, his influence will be no greater hereafter than that of Garret Davis, or any similar purely negative man. This is to be regreted because he might have done very much to unite the two nationalities more closely, but now, so far as he is followed at all, it will lead to further seperation.

Carl Schurz, shorn of his personal influence, becomes only a common scold, and the subjects which have caused him to spend so much research and eloquence are of no more account when compared with the great vital interests of a live nation, than the wrangle of a school boy Lyceum upon the never-settled theme of anticipation vs. participation. A victorious army has few stragglers and no deserters; and therefore the Davis, or Cincinnati movement, will be a farce. It is now evident that Grant will be re-elected by a two-thirds majority in the electoral college.

I give these sentiments precisely as they were expressed, as an indication of the drift of German opinion.

SUPPORT OF EDUCATION.

I am gratified to observe that yesterday the Senate by a decided vote amending the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial Appropriation Bill, so as to make a small increase in the amount of appropriation for the Bureau of Education. The sum is still small, and will have to be increased if the National Educational Bill becomes a law in the form that it passed in the House. It is the most positive waste to attempt to economise in the necessities of education facility for which this bureau is indispensible and which cannot be furnished to our growing nation without a constantly increased expense as millions are the sinews of war, and war is often avoided by the education of the people, if a few thousand are found necessary as the sinews of education, solely as a preventive of war, the spending of these thousands is, perhaps, the very best economy, besides furnishing the strongest impetus to a progressive civilization founded on instruction in the arts of peace.

INTERESTING ITEMS.

Carl Schurz was flatly contradicted by a witness before the Sale of Arms Committee yesterday. He stated that Gen'l Dyer had said in his report that one million breech-loaders should be kept in the Arsenals to provide against emergencies. On referring to the report it was found that Schurz was wrong. The remark alluded to what was thought by others three years ago.

Gen'l Sickels has been granted an extended leave from Spain. That is all that has been done thus far.

Wm. Newton was indicted yesterday in our Criminal Court for the murder of Samuel Lucas in February last.

A Free Ferry to Camden.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

Permit me to introduce a subject which interests the good people of our City, and those of the lower part of Camden more than is imagined at first sight. We want a free and short route from this City to Camden County. As things are at present there is not and cannot be much trade and traveling between our City and lower Camden. In fact the lower part of Camden is to all intents and purposes, as seperated from us as Gates County is. There is not that intercourse between us that ought to exist.

We think it is time the people of both Counties should take the matter into consideration. We would suggest to the merchants and others of our City, the wisdom of building a free road, beginning at the City wharf, near Mr. Clark's large building, thence crossing the river by a boat, thence a road say thirty feet wide through the Island opposite our City, to and over "Deep Stream," thence by a road through the swamp to the main road in Camden. The two counties might unite in building this road, our county building the boat and road and bridge over "Deep Stream"—Camden to build the road to the main road in that County.

The cost to each county would be a little over fifteen hundred dollars each, which could be paid in four years. A man to attend the boat would only cost twenty-five dollars a month for both counties. Opposite the landing in our City, a large shed ought to be built, to drive under in case of rain and when waiting for the boat.

The free road would in a few years, advance the value of lands in the lower part of Camden to at least ten thousand dollars. Northern emigration now will not go there. This road would remove the local objection to this. It would cause an advance of the value of property in our City. The mutual interest of both equally demands more intimate intercourse and relations between them. We cannot remain isolated as we have so long. The road will be built at no distant day, and why not do so, in our time? We want both parties to fully discuss and consider the matter. They are too plain for us to enlarge upon. Will you, Mr. Editor, let this subject receive your serious consideration in all its bearings?

PROGRESS.

A Suggestion.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

Will you permit me to make a suggestion? A few years ago a gentlemen of Washington City, introduced the Black Bass fish from the West in the Potomac River.

They weigh from one to three pounds, are most delicious, and have the flavor of Spots. They can be purchased at Harpers Ferry at twenty dollars per hundred young ones.

Would it not be advisable to raise a hundred dollars and get, say three hundred young fish, and put them in our river, at the ship yard above our city. In a few years our rivers would be full of these delicious fish, they would annually bring thousands of dollars in value, to our city, and those living on our river. A person can be found to go for them by having his expenses paid. I merely throw out the suggestion without commenting on the value, as an article of food and the sport of fishing they would lead to, to our citizens generally.

PROGRESS.

Edenton Items.

—Last week—Blank.

—A little cold and frosty,—this March.

—Fire,—the sparks from the Steamer Lota set fire to a warehouse on the wharf one day last week. Not much damage done, however, as the fire was soon extinguished.

—In bad health,—our honorable and worthy Judge of Probate Wm. R. Skinner. We hope he will soon be as well as ever.

—Arrived on the 14th,—Steamer Louisa Capt. Wyatt from Baltimore and Steamer Cannon, Capt Diggs, from Norfolk.

—The Schr. Mary J. Russell, Capt. Smith, of Bridgetown N. J. 157 Tons burthen, has discharged a cargo of Ice at this Port.

—The Steamer Ella has gone to Washington N. C. to complete repairs. Hurry up the work. Capt. Burbage wants the Ella right now, and Purser Edwards and Mr. Hammond want more room too. Let her come quickly!

—Col Guirkin was in Edenton on Wednesday last. He thinks well and feels well about coming events. As he is a "Grant man," it is not likely he will be disappointed.

—Two shows this week,—"Scenes over Land and Sea" were very pretty; and "Gregory with his banjo" was as lively as ever. The latter exhibited for the benefit of the Baptist Church. Sixty Dollars in Greenbacks was the result. Much obliged Mr. Gregory.

—Our young friend C. A. Woodard of Norfolk is with us once more. He represents a first class business establishment in Norfolk, and if you have orders for Groceries, etc., he will fill them very promptly. "Try him, I know you will like him."

—A great want among our business men—A Bank, Banking House or Broker's Office in Edenton.

—Another want,—A good, first class book and periodical store. Come and set up one. It will pay.

—Going away up North,—Shad,—all boxed up in ice. That shows where the money is.

"ONCE A WEEK"

Congress.

On the 12th inst., in the Senate the bill granting aid to the Great Southern Railroad of Florida was passed. In the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill an amendment was adopted fixing the appropriation for publication of the laws of Congress in newspapers at $50,000, and stipulating that the publication shall cease with the present Congress.—In the House the speaker called attention to the fact that in the special amnesty bill the names of persons appeared who belong to classes to which Congress had repeatedly refused to grant amnesty, Ex-Gov. Vance was one of the parties named.

On the 13th inst., in the Senate Mr. Conkling made an unsuccessful effort to pass his resolution concerning Senatorial recommendations to office. Several amendments to the Legislative appropriation bill were adopted.——The House was occupied all day in discussing the proposed subsidy to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, but without reaching a vote.

On the 14inst., in the Senate the Legislative appropriation bill was passed. The Tariff bill was taken up.——In the House the St. Croix land grand scheme was debated at length, but without result.

On the 15th inst., in the Senate, Mr. Sherman spoke at length on the bill proposing a revision of the Tariff.——In the House, the St. Croix Land Grant bill was defeated.

On the 16th inst., no session of the Senate.——In the House general debate.

On the 18th nothing of interest in either House.

☞ We hear the name of Maj. J. J. YEATES, of Murfresboro, spoken of as the possible Democratic nominee for Congress. The Major is a gentleman of character and ability.

☞ A cotemporary is responsible for the following. We'll put it in verse:

"The dearest spot on earth to me,"
The store whose curd I never see;
There every price mark seems to cry,
"I say, old boy, how's that for high?"

☞ A number of Republicans on the other side of the Sound are urging the name of Jos. J. MARTIN, Esq., for Congress. He is an active and earnest Republican and if nominated shall have the cordial support of the NORTH CAROLINIAN.

☞ Among the Northern arrivals since our last issue we notice WHARTON MORRIS Esq., from Milesburg, Pa. Mr. MORRIS is a gentleman of large business experience, and he proposes spending a short time here examining the resources and possibilities of this section.

☞ It is a great mistake some men make—the more they get the more they want. They become grasping and dictatorial. Blinded by success and license, they carry their exactions to such lengths that they fall victims to the popular resentment which they have provoked. Halt!

☞ The man who finds it necessary to descend to profanity in order to give force to his language thereby admits his poor acquaintance with the power and force of his mother tongue, while he at the same time proclaims his own miserable weakness, and utterly fails to carry conviction, but only excites the lasting disgust of his listeners.

☞ The subject broached by our correspondent PROGRESS—a Free Ferry to Camden—is well worthy the consideration of the people on both sides of the River. It is feasible; it is practicable, and the interests of both counties would be promoted. Let the matter be agitated.

☞ A Cotton Factory would pay here. There is no doubt about it. Our moderate climate, so favorable to spinning; our cheap labor and food; the raw material right at the door,—all these would enable a Company to manufacture Cotton at least 15 per cent. cheaper than it can be done in New England. Before the war, this section of the South, because of its peculiar form of labor, its genial climate and its generous soil, was almost exclusively an agricultural country. Our form of industry is, nay it must change. We must become manufacturers as well as producers.

☞ Sunday last was the anniversary of Ould Ireland's Great Apostle, St. PATRICK. He it was who was sent by Pope CELESTINE, after his travels in Gaul and Italy, on an apostolic mission to convert the Irish. He penetrated into the remotest corners of that famous country, "restoring health to the sick, sight to the blind and life to the departed," for upwards of forty years. He well deserved to be immortalized in song, for

"Saint Patrick was a gentleman
And come from decent people."

No wonder that it is the delight of all those born in the Emerald Isle to keep watch on the day of his nativity wiht festive joy.

☞ Still they come—recruits to the great Republican Party. On Friday last Hon. JOHN L. CHAMBERLAIN, late Conservative Representative from Camden, addressed a Republican meeting of that county and unequivocally declared himself in favor of the party of Progress, of Justice, of Peace and Law and Order. He is a gentleman of ability and wields a great influence. Well may our opponents feel apprehensive of the future when their best men are leaving their party.

☞ A correspondent sends us an amusing account of a convivial party that took place in his native village a few evenings ago. But as he requests us to withhold his name we have decided to "do likewise" with his communication, for its pointed allusions would certainly bring us at least a half a dozen visitors before our next issue, and as he intimates that they occasionally indulge in a beverage somewhat stronger than Dr. JOHNSON'S tea, we are not sure that their heads would be in the perpendicular condition necessary to preserve the normal equilibrium. So we decline.

☞ A prominent gentleman from "the other Side of the Sound" who has taken the NORTH CAROLINIAN the past two years, writes us saying:

"I had intended discontinuing your paper when my subscription ran out, but as the time has arrived to decide the matter I enclose $2 for which please send it another year. Though not agreeing with you politically, I certainly like your independence. I am satisfied that you and your paper have done incalculable good and I feel that you should be supported and sustained. Your political articles, though incisive and trenchant, are pervaded with a candor I admire. I always read them with pleasure.

And we trust with profit. We write as we feel. Our object is to do good—to advance the best interests of the District and State.

A romantic death—a young lady drowned in tears. For the men of note—inquire of the Cashier. The most useful part of philosophy—the knowledge of our duties. Very apt to be caught—a cold. Easily put out—fiery men. "Straws" show which way the wind blows—see report of New Hampshire election. Our Devil says he is satisfied that some ladies use paint as all fiddlers do rosin—to aid them in drawing a beau. Not necessary to take a receipt—when you pay a visit. Would like to have it returned—a beau when he kisses his "sweet-heart."

A lady "admirer" of our paper from South Mills sends us the following to help fill up our Port Folio: Always welcome—the NORTH CAROLINIAN. Rusty—the last button on Gabe's coat. Oderiferous—kissing a chap with a cigar in his mouth. No man's business—what another man does. Wanted—to know everything. Patent squallers—our neighbors cats. Still there—the Dismal Swamp Canal. What it Costs to Assault an Editor.

CINCINNATI, O., March 11.—John Walden, who assaulted Mr. Perry, one of the editors of the Gazette, on the street the other evening, was this morning fined $300 and sentenced to the workhouse for one year.

Hon. C. L. Cobb.

In a conversation with the above named gentlemen sometime ago, he informed us that it was not his desire that his name should appear upon the State ticket, and the effort of his friends to place it there was made without his consent or approval. Hon. C. L. Cobb is, and has been for the past four years, a faithful representative in Congress from the first Congressional district in this State, and in that capacity exercises an influence second to none of the able Representatives of the South in that body. While we would be glad to support him for any State office, we feel confident that he can accomplish more in his present position, not merely for the benefit of his district, but for the entire State, whose condition he has labored incessantly to improve.—Asheville Pioneer.

Says the Republican and Courier of Newbern: A man from Hyde county, was on our streets last Tuesday, with a gun on his shoulder 6 feet long; the bore was about as long as the gun and large in proportion and it takes half a pound of powder and a quart of shot for a charge; he says he can stand in Lumberton and shoot to Scuffletown and he intends to go for Lowery; should he do so Lowery will never know who killed him, for he couldn't see half that distance.

A Man in Raleigh was arrested the other day and bound over in the sum of $500 for stealing a child.

There seems to be no limit to the ingenuity of Connecticut Yankees. A farmer in that State has just contrived an infernal machine for the destruction of crows, in the shape of a kernel of corn which explodes on being picked up by the unsuspecting bird, and blows his head off without the slightest warning.

The colored people of South Carolina met recently in convention and issued a call for a national convention of colored men, to be held at New Orleans, on the second Wednesday in April. The call mentions no party, but as one of the points advocated is equality before the law, there is no room to doubt that the convention will be Republican.

A young woman delegate in the recent Ohio convention of women suffragists, plumply said: "For my own part, I love men, individually and collectively, better than women; and so, I am sure, does every one of my sex, if they, like me, would utter their real sentiments. I am more anxious for man,s elevation and improvement than woman's and so is every true woman."

A man was arrested in Lancaster, Pa., last week, who candidly acknowledged that he had never done a day's work in his life, although he was forty-one years of age. After traveling through the greater portion of Europe as a professional beggar, he came to America several years ago, where he has since pursued his vocation with varying success. He boasts of having obtained much valuable information regarding the stationhouses and jails of every country he has visited.

Vesuvius is beginning to get lively again. After one of its long periods of inaction, or rather of unseen preparation, it begins to show signs of mischief. A month ago the smoke was very delicate and transparent, but it soon after began to get denser, and to be laden at times with puffs of ashes. These, more recently have been followed by other projectiles, and the Naples Pungolo, of February 3, says fire could then be seen from Naples, vomiting from the crater every night. The eruptive movement appears at three distinct points, and fears are entertained of a serious outbreak.

A remarkable story comes from Bombay, which suggests the propiety of employing monkeys as police detectives. A Madras man making a journey took with him some money and jewels, and a pet monkey. He was waylaid, robbed, murdered and buried by a party of assassins. The monkey witnessed the whole affair from a tree top, and as soon as the villains had departed he went to the nearest police-officer's station, attracted his attention by his sighs and groans, and finally led him to the grave of his master. He then enabled the officer to recover the stolen property from the place where it had been concealed, and then went to the Bazaar and picked out the murderers one by one, holding them fast by the leg until secured. They have confessed the crime, and are held for trial.

WHAT DYSPEPSIA MAY END IN.—Indigestion if not dangerous, say the frankly. Perhaps not in itself while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague bilious remittents, and other epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended on.

Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Binderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Ashes and Lime in Gardening.

We give below an answer of Dr. David Stewart to one of the largest peach, pear and truck growers in the vicinity of Dover, Delaware, who wishes to apply ashes to his orchards, but, not having enough for the purpose, desires to know the effect of combining with them an equal quantity of lime:

Ashes increase the value of lime by admixture, while lime also increases the potency of ashes and their solvent power on the plant food in the soil, etc. Three kinds of compost should be recognized, viz: mineral, vegetable and animal.

In proportion as the soil is too stiff or too loose, "green sand" or any other sand or loose material should be preferred to stiff clay, which may otherwise be selected (as in the present instance) to form the basis, and double the proportion of this element to any other ingredient. But it should be used and composted near "the cultivation."

The first stratum of a mineral compost may form a parallelogram 8x14 feet; whereas the next stratum (which we call No. 2) should be of ashes, say 6x12 feet; and No. 3, or the third stratum, of lime, 6x12 feet; No. 4, or the fourth stratum, of clay, 8x14 feet—again repeating the series in the same order to any convenient height. When suffered to leach for several months (as any other compost) cut it down vertically and apply to each tree a shovelful around the stem every year; or divide a shovelful between four hills of corn as a "top dressing" at any time before July.

In forming a "vegetable compost" substitute peat for lime, using the same formula as for the mineral compost. In forming an animal compost, add to the peat, or muck, or other vegetable refuse, a stratum of vegetable manure, with a gallon of plaster, or some bones of animal refuse. Peruvian guano, if used at all, will pay double in this relation, but old plaster or lime should be confined to the mineral compost, and not mingled with the latter, nor even stratified therewith except for long repose as artificial 'nitre beds.'

Buckwheat.

Buckwheat should be sown as early as possible in July. If the ground is not perfectly mellow, give one more plowing; this crop will suffer on imperfectly prepared ground. It may be true that a comparatively fair yield may be gained under poor culture, but aim should be to grasp all that nature will yield. A farmer is a good business man, only when he gets the largest return from his land by means of his labor of hand and head. These are capital, and he can only succeed by a wise use of them. Buckwheat is generally hurried into the ground as a catch crop, but it can be made sufficiently profitable to pay well for all the care and attention that may be given to it. The first requisite is mellow ground. Plow and harrow until the lumps are reduced. Plow once more, and sow and harrow in. A bushel of seed is sufficient for an acre. We have succeeded better with this liberal seeding than with two or three pecks. Grass seed and clover will often take well with this crop, especially if the soil is in fair condition. The dense shade afforded will shield it until the vigorous heat of summer are past, when the fall rains will push it ahead sufficiently to withstand the frost of winter. Great caution must be observed in harvesting this crop. The quality of the flour depends mainly in getting the grain in perfectly dry. Never on any account stack it or put it into the barn. Cut when the dew is off, and put up in small shocks without tying; watch the weather closely, and as soon as dry, breezy day occurs, haul in and thrash out. Clean up immediately after thrashing, and spread the grain on the barn floor, turning over a few times, and allowing the drying winds free access to it. The yield of flour will be greatly increased by such treatment. Twenty-five pounds of fine flour may be taken from a bushel of grain after the miller's toll is deducted, and new flour brings a high price. The middlings should be separated from the bran, which will be found an excellent addition to the hot bed spring, and is worth preserving for that purpose. The middlings are excellent food for young stock pigs, horse or poultry, but we would not advise them to be fed to cows. The butter resulting from such feed will be white and tasteless. Treated thus, Buckwheat is safe to yield at the rate of a dollar, of even considerably more, for each bushel of grain, besides the feed yielded by the middlings. But let it be borne in mind that the early market must be secured, or the profit will be considerably reduced.—American Agriculturist.

Farm Notes.

The burden of the farm—Too much land.

A farmer's life goes often against the grain.

There must be instinctive neatness in a housewife, or there will be dirt in the corners.

The day is coming when the farmer will be the educated man.

The warfare of the farmer must be eternal against the weeds.

Nothing is so extremely ridiculous as to see a man go into his field, all nicely prepared, and deliberately cast foul seed into it. (How many of us can plead innocence here?)

The farmer is constantly surrounded by a miracle of his own "raising"—converting foul manure into grain.

The farmer's land has area; but his ownership also extends downward—down to the fires; in the centre of the globe meet all our deeds.—F. G. in Country Gentleman.

The St. Louis Democrat in speaking of the willingness of Gratz Brown to be interviewed by sensational writers, says: "It is one among the many eminent characteristics of Missouri's Governor that he is succulent, and the while others of equal prominence withhold their juices, and resist all attempts at their extraction, Gratz yields to the slightest overtures of the interviews, and gives forth of his intellectual essences at the faintest wink of the reporter. He is, so to speak, a dripping udder, ever kindly responsive to the stroke of the journalistic milkmaid; let but the hand be applied and the fluid comes."

Correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, referring to the crowd assembled to see the Japanese at one of the railroad stations near that city, says: "The journalist who thoroughly understood his business would estimate the number at ten thousand. Unprejudiced persons, unaccustomed to exaggeration, might fall considerably below this estimate."

MANURE.—If the orchardist wishes for a good crop of fruit, he will find it necessary to give his trees a liberal supply of manure. Manuring not only pays in the larger quantity of fruit, but also in the finer quality.

CURRANTS AND GOOSEBERRIES.—Set out in rows five feet apart each way. Make cuttings as soon as the leaves fall off, and plant in good soil. Prune old bushes in good shape.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,000, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splendid stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 350 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable advestment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 150 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water transportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Regovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished Physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
